Prepared by: Analytics & Strategy Office | April 30, 2025

Executive Summary

Q1 2025 marked a strong start for StreamVault Entertainment, driven primarily by the breakout performance of Stellar Run and the successful launch of Iron Protocol. Total platform views grew 34% quarter-over-quarter, with premium subscriptions rising 18% year-over-year. The Sci-Fi and Action genres continue to dominate engagement metrics, while Comedy underperformed relative to budget allocation, warranting strategic review. Regional expansion in Southeast Asia showed early positive signals, particularly in Singapore and Tokyo.

Top Performing Titles — Q1 2025

Stellar Run emerged as the standout title of the quarter, recording 1,742 thousand views — nearly 3x its Q4 2024 performance. The title benefited from a coordinated social media and influencer campaign launched in late December 2024, which drove significant organic word-of-mouth. Iron Protocol debuted strongly at #2, supported by a $70M production budget and wide theatrical-to-streaming window strategy. Neon Dynasty and Velocity rounded out the top tier.

Rank	Title	Genre	Q1 Views (K)	Avg Rating	Revenue (USD)
1	Stellar Run	Sci-Fi	1,742	8.4	$4,200,000
2	Iron Protocol	Action	551	7.8	$1,980,000
3	Neon Dynasty	Action	477	7.5	$1,650,000
4	Dark Orbit	Sci-Fi	428	6.7	$1,420,000
5	Velocity	Action	407	7.1	$1,380,000
6	Crimson Tide Rise	Thriller	321	7.3	$1,100,000
7	Echoes of Tomorrow	Sci-Fi	298	7.6	$980,000

Genre Performance Analysis

Sci-Fi and Action genres collectively accounted for 67% of Q1 viewership. Drama showed resilience with Last Kingdom maintaining a loyal viewer base. Comedy represented the most significant underperformance: despite $40M in combined marketing spend across three titles (Laugh Factory, Comic Relief, Punchline), average viewer ratings remained at 5.3 — the lowest across all genres. Audience feedback indicates that comedy content skews too broadly, lacking the niche specificity that today's streaming audiences demand. Romance titles showed moderate performance, with Heartstrings benefiting from Valentine's Day timing.

Genre	Total Views (K)	Avg Rating	Budget Utilization	YoY Growth
Sci-Fi	2,468	7.9	82%	+44%
Action	1,435	7.5	91%	+28%
Drama	487	6.6	74%	+5%
Thriller	412	7.1	68%	+12%
Romance	284	6.8	55%	+8%
Comedy	216	5.3	43%	-18%

Key Strategic Observations

- Stellar Run Viral Effect: Social media-driven discovery accounted for an estimated 58% of new viewers. The influencer campaign (partnering with 120+ creators) generated 18M impressions at a cost-per-acquisition 40% below platform average.
- Comedy Portfolio Review Required: All three comedy titles missed viewership targets by 35-60%. Audience exit surveys cite 'predictable storylines' and 'low production value' as primary dissatisfiers.
- SmartTV Investment Case: The 42% QoQ growth in SmartTV sessions suggests an opportunity to optimize the living-room experience with exclusive content premieres.
- Regional Opportunity: Bangalore and Singapore showed disproportionately high engagement scores (avg 91.2), suggesting untapped premium subscriber potential in these markets.

Leadership Recommendations

Based on Q1 performance data and trend analysis, the Analytics & Strategy Office recommends the following actions for Q2 2025:

1. Double down on Sci-Fi pipeline

Commission 2 additional Sci-Fi productions targeting Q3 2025 release. Leverage the Stellar Run audience segment data for casting and storyline alignment.

2. Restructure Comedy strategy

Pause new comedy greenlight approvals pending a format review. Explore partnership with established comedy studios rather than in-house production.

3. Launch SmartTV exclusive premiere programme

Offer 24-hour SmartTV-exclusive windows for top-tier releases. Expected to drive 15-20K new SmartTV app installs per title.

4. Deepen Bangalore and Singapore market penetration

Allocate $2M in targeted marketing spend toward premium subscription conversion in both cities for Q2.

5. Expand influencer network for Echoes of Tomorrow

Apply the Stellar Run playbook to the April 2025 title. Pre-launch influencer seeding should begin by May 15.
